

ABSTRACT

Anas, Khoirul Anwar. 2014. The design of Resort Hotel and Spa in Ledug Pasuruan.
Supervisor: Dr. Agung Sedayu, MT and Andi Baso Mappaturi, MT.

Keywords: The design of Resort Hotel and Spa in Ledug Pasuruan, Tropical Architecture, Blend with Nature.

Many countries depend on tourism industry as a source of tax and increase the economic system in the area. Hence the development of tourism industry now is one of the strategies employed by a nongovernmental organization to promote certain areas as tourist destinations. Because of that the tourism it self is a journey undertaken to recreation or holiday. Through the tourism sector is expected to improve the systems in the region economy Ledug Prigen sub-district. One of the efforts by local governments in the area of Ledug Prigen sub-district to improve the system economy is to increase and improve the place tourism, to visit the community particularly from outside the region increased.

The existence of resorts which are generally only of providing facility lodging course, because of that the economy in the region to improve the systems Ledog Prigen especially from the tourism sector will designed a resort hotel where in this place there are supporting facilities being salubrious, capable of being to reach both the community Ledug tourists or people who own or in a different region Ledug.

Allah explained that the role of nature in shaping the life of living beings such as the growth of vegetation, animals and humans. Elements of nature that is in the Earth like air, water and soil should be guarded well by living in harmony with nature and the mutual benefit with other beings.

The selection of tropical as the theme of architecture in the design is not separated from how to designed give good effect on the environment without the need may be against nature, because human itself is as caliph in advance of the earth. Theme based on natural conditions and areas in Ledug itself.

Tropical architecture is a concept of a building that adapting the condition of tropical climates where tropical climate this is a climate that was in indonesia. With the concept of blend with nature that is a concept that can be used as braking problems at the moment, where on the application is a design by using nature as a potential in the design and attention to the reciprocal on the environment around, both buildings to the environment or the environment into the building that can produce a piece of architecture with completely new standards of a resort hotel and integration further islamic (beauty, harmony and relationship with nature).