

ABSTRACT

Hakim, Lukman. 05210083. Fulfillment of a convict's wife living inner and the implications for family harmony (case study of women in prison breadfruit, poor, Sukun, Malang). Thesis. Al ahwal Al Syakhsiyyah Department, Sharia Faculty of Islamic State University Maulana Malik Ibrahim of Malang. Supervisor: H. Abbas Arfan, Lc., M.H

Key words: Livelihoods mind, the wife of a convicted person, family harmony.

Husband and wife who live in one of the class IIA Malang prisons have difficulty living inner fulfillment. This difficulty is caused by two aspect. first, a place to relate very limited. Second, the administrative process is closed. This facility is not a limitation factor due to the absence of the desire of the prisons to provide adequate facilities. Due to limited facilities over prisons and prisoners in the number of inmates that more and more. The absence of a living place for inner fulfillment and wife husband and wife who become residents in women's prisons IIA class of Malang, making frequent quarrels between husband and wife and their marital relationship becomes less harmonious, so some are nearly divorce because the husband was having an affair with a woman proved other. Therefore, researchers are interested in knowing the form of a living inner fulfillment and its effect on family harmony formulation of the problem, as follows: 1. What about other forms of inner fulfillment and wife living in women prisons inmates (Correctional Institution) Malang? 2. What about the implications of inner fulfillment and wife living in Women prisons inmates (Correctional Institution) Malang to family harmony?

Research that is being studied authors grouped into types of empirical legal research. The data were collected using interviews, observation, questionnaire and documentation. And then analyzed by the method of editing, classifying, verivying, analizing, and concluding.

Form of inner fulfillment of living is usually done in women's prisons Class IIA Malang is called a family that reached 71.7%, other inner fulfillment of living such as sexuality, which amounted to only 1.7%. The second option for inner fulfillment of living for them is a face to face. Number reached 20%. While the rest chose other. Effect of inner fulfillment of living in prisons for women convicts wife of class IIA Malang 38.8% said it was very powerful, influential 29.4%, 8.3% is quite influential, 8.3% had no effect, 15.2% is not affected.