

ABSTRACT

Wahyu Aris C, 11410035. Life Satisfaction Relationship with Job Satisfaction in the former of Indonesian Workers (TKI) in the village of Arjowilangun, Thesis, Faculty of Psychology UIN Maulana Malik Ibrahim Malang, 2015

Life satisfaction is something where a person's assess everything in his life events that have been passed or are being passed, so this study is associated with life satisfaction in the former of Indonesian Workers (TKI) in which a lot of cases of violent or unpleasant had happened to the Indonesian Workers (TKI), and this experiment is carried out in the village Arjowilangun that have different social phenomena with villages in the surrounding areas, especially in the Kalipare, because the majority of the population in the village Arjowilangun work became an Indonesian Workers (TKI) that many of them are former of Indonesian Workers (TKI). It makes researcher interested in conducting research in the village with the title " Life Satisfaction Relationship with Job Satisfaction in the former of Indonesian Workers (TKI) in the village of Arjowilangun ", by using quantitative methods as well as ex post facto.

In this study, there were 70 respondents, the subject of research were taken from the existing 10% of the population. From the research that has been done that the level of job satisfaction in the former Indonesian Workers (TKI) at high category with a percentage of 91% and the medium category with a percentage of 9%, as well as in variable of life satisfaction were 49% in the high category, 40% in the category Low and 11% in the medium category.

The hypothesis of this study was the relationship between job satisfaction and life satisfaction, and the results of research that has been done can be concluded that there was a relationship between two variables with a value of 0.588 and sig <0.05, so the job satisfaction variable were significantly associated with life satisfaction variable.

Keywords: Job Satisfaction, Life Satisfaction, Indonesian Workers (TKI)