ABSTRACT

Wati, Indah. DPC Member Advocate Understanding PERADI Malang against Sharia Economic Disputes. Department of Al-ahwal al-Syakhsyiyah Faculty of syariah, The Islamic State University of Maulana Malik Ibrahim Malang

Supervisor: Musleh Herry, SH, M. Hum.

Keywords : Understanding Advocate, Islam Economics

As one element of upholder justice, an advocate in his role both as a legal adviser in the realm of criminal law, or legal authority in the realm of civil law, are required to always follow the latest developments positive law, both in terms of legal issues, case law, the latest development of legal doctrine and various forms of new regulations, published, either in the form of legislation or non-statutory regulations. One of the latest developments Indonesian legal world, particularly in the realm of civil law, or more specifically Islamic civil law, is that the absolute competence of religious courts since the issuance of Law no. 3 year 2006 on the Religious Courts to grow with the inclusion of syariah economic disputes. Then, the extent to which advocates understanding PERADI Malang DPC members on matters of Islamic economics.

The research method is to use there search field research, with ades criptive approach to the analysis. As noted by Suharsimi Arikunto that descriptive research is not intended to test specific hypotheses but only describe what it is about a variable, symptoms and conditions.

Based on research, it is known that the DPC PERADI Malang Advocates who are willing to give a description of Islamic economic problems, not enough to understand the issues in a comprehensive Islamic financial services. In addition, there are two phenomena the understanding of Islamic economics among lawyers DPC PERADI Malang. First, an understanding that is responsive. The definition of responsive understanding is the understanding gained through following and respond to developments and legal phenomena in society and not just because of the demands of mere handling of disputes. Second, understanding casuistic. That is the understanding of Islamic finance has gained more because of the dispute is handled.