In this study, researcher explained how the cash receipts accounting information system of outpatient services were still not going well in one of the privately-owned work that moved in health services, namely RSU Lirboyo.

The purpose of this research was to know the strength and weakness of cash receipts accounting information system of outpatient services and make the new system that was more effective and efficient. Researcher used qualitative method with descriptive approach to collect the necessary data.

In this study there were a double positions performed by administration officials, it disapproved of the existing of system in a descriptive job, it was feared to lead the fraudulent in financial records as part of the administration concurrently as a cashier and accounting. In the process of medical fees payment and drugs already existed the system that was used by the hospital but still needed to be changed because there was a change that can be detrimental to the hospital. It can be resolved by designing a new system in the cash receipts of outpatient services in order to minimize the loss of the hospital.
