

ABSTRACT

Tito, Arif A.S. 2014. The relationship between self-concept with Body Dysmorphic Disorder (BDD) within 2012 University Students, Psychology faculty of State Islamic University, Maulana Malik Ibrahim, Malang.

State Islamic University Maulana Malik Ibrahim, Malang.

Advisor: Dr. Fathul Lubabin Nuqul, M. Si

Keywords: Self-concept and Body Dysmorphic Disorder (BDD)

Problems appear when beauty and handsomeness has experienced paradigm discharging which is worrying about appearance is called Body Dysmorphic Disorder (BDD). A teenager happens to have a problem towards his/her physical shift. Only few of them who experience body catecsis, or feel excited with their body. Inexcitement happens to be experienced in some particular part of the body. The failure of experiencing body catecsis has become one of the causes of having a bad self-concept and the lack of self-image during becoming teen. Self-concept constitutes the description of a person about him/herself, which is formed from the gotten experiences around the surrounding.

The problems of the study are 1) how is the degree of the 2012 University students, the faculty of psychology, state Islamic University, Maulana Malik Ibrahim, Malang? 2) how is the degree of Body Dysmorphic disorder towards the 2012 University students, the faculty of psychology, state Islamic University, Maulana Malik Ibrahim, Malang? 3) Is there any relationship between self-concept with Body Dysmorphic Disorder towards the 2012 University students, the faculty of psychology, state Islamic University, Maulana Malik Ibrahim, Malang?

This study aims to: 1) get the descriptions of self-concept degree of the 2012 University students, the faculty of psychology, state islamic University, Maulana Malik Ibrahim, Malang. 2) get the general descriptions about body dysmorphic disorder degree toward the 2012 University students, the faculty of psychology, state Islamic University, Maulana Malik Ibrahim, Malang. 3) get the descriptions of relationship between self-concept and body Dysmorphic Disorder toward the 2012 University students, the faculty of psychology, state Islamic University, Maulana Malik Ibrahim, Malang.

As the result of the study, can be concluded: 1) The self-concept degree of the 2012 University students, the faculty of psychology, state Islamic University, Maulana Malik Ibrahim, Malang is on the average. 2) Body Dysmorphic Disorder degree towards the 2012 University students, the faculty of psychology, state Islamic University, Maulana Malik Ibrahim, Malang in on the average. 3) there is negative relationship between self-concept and body dysmorphic disorder towards the 2012 University students, the faculty of psychology, state Islamic University, Maulana Malik Ibrahim, Malang.