ABSTRACT

Keywords: Husband and wife, harmonious relationship, conflict.

Once a man and a woman decided to live together under a sacred bond that is marriage, they started new page of life. As husband and wife, they have to be able to respect disparities and weaknesses. Furthermore, they have to go through one step, one purpose, happy and sad together for the rest of their life.

However, the fact shows different things. There are many spouses having conflicts after living together. These conflicts are the big problems for their household in the future.

Regarding that fact, the researcher tried to find factors that could rouse conflicts between husband and wife. Moreover, he would like to know how to overcome the conflicts happened according to some lecturers in UIN Maulana Malik Ibrahim Malang’s point of views.

This research belongs to field study. It used qualitative data analyses. The data are taken from interview done to some lecturers in Syariah faculty.

The result of this study shows that there are four factors that could rouse conflict between husband and wife according to the lecturers of Syariah faculty UIN Malang. Those factors are personality disparity of each spouse, financial problem, unaccepted reality, and external factor such as the existence of intruder who interfere their household matter. Therefore, the spouses have to be able to minimize and overcome the conflicts by having good communication, being honest, and doing spiritual approach.